

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving is one of the great traditional American holidays and its origin is a fascinating story. To trace it to its beginning, we must go back to Scrooby, a village in northern England.

At Scrooby, in the autumn of 1606, a small group of fervently religious people began to hold services in an abandoned chapel.

They were mostly farm laborers. Their religion was a simple one. From their travels in search of freedom, they later on became known as "The Pilgrims." They were NOT Puritans.

Sheffield Makes Plans for Annual Hallowe'en Parade

Sheffield, Oct. 28—Plans are complete for the annual Hallowe'en parade for the school children of Sheffield township which is sponsored by the Sheffield Rotary Club with the Lincoln and Washington grade schools Parents-Teachers Associations assisting. This year's parade will be held on Wednesday night.

The affair is held to offer local youth an opportunity to have Hallowe'en fun in the form of a parade, costuming and parties that night with the hope that there will be no Hallowe'en vandalism reported. Should there be any vandalism, dangerous pranks or soaping of windows reported, the parade will be cancelled.

The costumed children are to meet at their respective grade and high schools at 6 p. m. Wednesday night for the costume judging. The parade will then begin at 6:45 p. m. and will follow the usual route.

The high school students will meet the Washington students at Washington school and then will march down Church street to South Main and then along Main to the business loop where the Lincoln students will join the line of march which will proceed around the business loop and over to the township building where treats will be handed out.

The local businesses, industries and clubs finance the treat for the children. Rotarians named to solicit funds were Harry Shurey, Roy A. Carlson, Otto Mayer and Laurence Mayer.

Announcement was made the end of last week that the minstrel review planned by the Chamber of Commerce for November 28 and 29 has been postponed until after the first of the coming year due to the press of so many other activities now in the community.

Girl Scout troop 63 is planning a Hallowe'en party from 7 to 8:30 p. m. Tuesday evening at Friendship House. Girls in the troop are busy preparing decorations for the evening. Mrs. Richard Bloss is the troop leader.

Three compulsory training meetings for parents of boys wishing to join the proposed Cub Scout pack for Lincoln grade school are being planned as the first step in organizing the group.

Parents having boys between the ages of seven and eleven who want to become Cub Scouts must attend the training sessions to be held in Lincoln grade school auditorium at 8 p. m. in Tuesday, October 30, Nov. 6 and Monday, November 12.

Instructors at the sessions will be Rutledge Sanford, Jack Seely and Vance Weld, of the Warren County Boy Scout Council.

Cape Blanco was the first geographic feature of Oregon to be named by a white man.

Dr. Young's Office will be closed from Oct. 29th to Nov. 5th.

AT THE COLUMBIA THEATRE—Vivien Leigh, stage and screen star, plays the role of Blanche in "A Streetcar Named Desire" an Elia Kazan production by Charles K. Feldman for Warner Bros. release which comes to the Columbia today through Thursday, with a special student matinee at 4:00 p. m. Monday.

IN HAMOT HOSPITAL

The many friends of "Loaf" Brown will be sorry to hear that he has been readmitted to Hamot Hospital in Erie for further treatment.

CHRISTMAS MEETING

Mrs. Geraldine Johnston, home economics extension representative, promises an interesting program "with lots of ideas for Christmas" when the extension service countywide Christmas party is held in Le Community Building, Nov. 8. Those who plan to attend are urged to secure tickets from their local leaders by Saturday, Nov. 3.

CONEWAGO SPEAKER

Richard Harrison, well known journalist and criminologist, will be the speaker at the dinner meeting of the Conewago Club, Thursday, November 1. With 15 years' of active association with Scotland Yard behind him, Mr. Harrison's topic will be "Scotland Yard" and he will discuss the history, methods and actual cases of this famous British institution. It is announced that dinner reservations must be made by noon, Tuesday, Oct. 30.

CONDITION SERIOUS

The condition of Carl Durlin, 22, 15 S. South street, seriously burned at 4:30 a. m. Thursday in a furnace explosion at the Carborundum Company plant in Falconer, N. Y., is reported quite serious at the Jamestown General Hospital where he is a patient. The two other men who suffered burns at the time, Jack Lee and Darwin Rice, of Falconer, have been discharged from the hospital. The accident occurred when a furnace exploded at the Carborundum plant.

EMERGENCY QUIET

The emergency room at Warren General Hospital was comparatively quiet over the long weekend, inclement weather perhaps being responsible for a lack of accidents. Romaine Johnson, Warren RD 2, cut her hand while peeling potatoes, Sunday, and it was necessary to insert two sutures. Beverly Anne Rule, 19-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Rule, 16 McNair street, Sheffield, was taken ill at home on Saturday and was admitted as a patient after emergency treatment.

KINNEY IN NEW JOB

After 17 years with the United States Forest Service, C. L. Kinney of the local office has announced that he will become affiliated with the Allegheny Hardwood Lumber Corporation, Smethport. After 13 years in forest service in Kentucky and New England, Mr. Kinney came to the Warren office four years ago in charge of timber management and fire control. His resignation is effective Nov. 16. Although "Chet", as he is familiarly known to many Warren friends, will work out of Smethport, Mrs. Kinney and he will maintain their home at 14 West Wayne street, Warren.

Food High, Still Good Buy Claims Extension Worker

Food, although high in price, is still a good buy, according to Assistant County Agent Paul Hoke.

Just before World War II, he says, the average person spent 23 per cent of his income—after taxes—for food. Today, the same kinds and quantities of food would take only 19 per cent of the average person's income—after taxes.

We are eating 13 per cent more food per person than we did in 1935-39. And—the quality of the food bought today is higher than that bought before the war.

With field work practically completed for the year and barn chores increasing, Assistant County Agent Paul Hoke, reminds of the hazards that exist around the barn and to make corrections or improvements that may be needed.

Barns full of accident hazards cost the lives of many farmers and injure many more each year. A little time spent now in the correction or elimination of barn hazards will pay real dividends in safety and convenience.

Check loft doors, feed chutes, ladders and stairways to be sure they are safe. All barn floors should be solid, smooth and continuous. Dangerous corners and work centers should be well-lighted. Alleyways should not be permitted to become obstructed with feed, stools, harness, feed carts, or other obstacles. Forks, scrapers, and other barn equipment should be kept in racks or other safe and convenient places.

Smoking and careless handling of matches, gasoline, kerosene and lanterns must be guarded against. This is a good time to install lightning rods or check the ground connections for those already installed.

At times of extreme flood, Guayra Falls on the Parana River between Paraguay and Brazil, has more than 8 times the water volume of Niagara.

The Changing Landscapes

RALPH S. SCHERT

Hello Folks: The past week has been a busy one for conservation farmers in Warren County. The extended period of favorable weather has enabled more farmers to get conservation practices established on their farms.

Mike Savko, Columbus farmer, completed 2800 feet of drainage terraces. He hopes to see an increase in his crop yields on these fields next year now that he is removing the excess water before it has a chance to spread over the whole field.

The conservation survey has been completed on the farm of John Taydos, Garland farmer. This survey will be the basis on which the complete conservation farm plan is made.

Ronald Carlson has completed his conservation farm plan for his farm on Matthews Run-Road. Tree planting for the open areas is planned. Wildlife borders will be planted on the edges of the plantation. The wildlife border will provide food and shelter for game birds and animals as well as provide good erosion control.

Grade strips have been staked out by Leo and Richard Loecey, with the help of the SCS, on their farm in Spring Creek. With the establishment of these strips, a portion of the pasture will be plowed and included in the cropland. The soils in these fields are poorly drained and with the strips being on a slight grade, each row will help take some of the water from the field before it can cause too serious trouble. They plan to strip the remainder of the cropland as soon as possible.

Two terraces were staked out by Donald Gruber, Sugar Grove farmer, assisted by the SCS. Don plans on plowing these terraces in himself.

See you all next week.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Oct. 27—Mrs. Elmer Loomis, entertained the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, with nine women present. Miss Josephine Ricker presided and the program included a Study of Missions from the Book of Acts, by Mrs. Paul Carlberg; a reading, Mrs. Guy Summerson; reports of the Presbyterian meeting in Warren by Miss Ricker and Miss Pearl Thomas; and a report of a meeting in Erie by Mrs. Carlberg. Miss Thomas was program leader.

Miss Ricker reported on sewing completed for packages which are being sent to Korea regularly. Plans were made for contributions for Overseas and National Missions gifts. Each woman is asked to bring a Turkish towel 11x36 to the next meeting. Mrs. Summerson gave treasurer's report. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Sgt. Gilbert Enos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vion Enos of Bowie, Md., is spending a 15-day leave with his parents and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thompson of Sugar Grove. He is stationed with the Maintenance and Supply Group at Randolph Air Base, Tex.

Lt. Paul Carlberg, Jr., stationed at Westover Air Base, Mass., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carlberg, and Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Mickelson. He was accompanied home by his wife who had spent two weeks here with her parents.

The officers of the Presbyterian church and their wives were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Frank, Monday evening. Rev. J. Davis Illingworth.

Creole Oil Fields In Venezuela Are Visited By Sailor

Gail Willard Park, Radioman, USN, who is serving on an LST, has written an interesting letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Park, 5 North street, from foreign ports. The letter is all the more interesting to Mr. Park because of his son's mention of visits to oil fields, Mr. Park having been an oil man prior to becoming a member of the Borough police department.

"Yesterday morning we left the Dutch islands of Curacao," wrote young Mr. Park. "Prior to that we were in Maracibo, Venezuela, and while there I went on a tour of the Creole oil fields (under Standard) and got to see most of the points of interest. Quite a big set-up they have here and Pop would really have enjoyed it. Also crossed Lake Maracaibo by private launch and spent the afternoon seeing some of the wells they are drilling in the lake, then we had all the refreshments we wanted."

"In Curacao, we toured the city, ate chow at the Hotel Americano and ran into one man from Wisconsin and one from New York and spent the evening talking about the states and South America. All the Americans, British, Dutch, and all the others for that matter, are really swell. Invitations to their homes for chow and things like that."

"Now we are on our way back to Vieques for more maneuvers. No more liberty for a month or so. Hope I can get home when we get back. Rumor has it that we are to go to New York for overhaul, then to the Mediterranean."

Gail closed his letter with a tribute to his shipmates and his ship: "You'll never meet a better bunch of guys and there is no better place than the LST 1071."

Radioman Park, who is 22, is a 1947 graduate of Warren High school. He received his boot training at Great Lakes, then served at Norfolk and was on duty at Pensacola when he embarked upon his present cruise. He has four months to serve on his enlistment, having been in the Navy for three years and eight months.

Presbyterial executive of Titusville, moderated the meeting. Plans and business were discussed.

The every members canvass will be made early in November and special meetings are planned for the week beginning November 11. A family supper for members of the congregation will be held Wednesday evening, Nov. 7th at 6:30. Two future meetings with officers were planned at which Mr. Illingworth will be present. Mrs. Frank served a two course lunch.

Girl Scout Troop 6 has started its regular meetings after the vacation with Dorothea Taylor as leader, and until a regular assistant is named one of the troop committee women or a mother will assist the leader.

At the first meeting, Mrs. A. A. Grant assisted and badge work was discussed. The girls will be working on the needlecraft badge and will first make sewing boxes. They are planning a bus trip to Pittsburgh where they will visit the museum and other places of interest. They will be raising funds toward this project and have $50.00 at the present time.

Mrs. Harold Carlson and Mrs. Eugene Anderson were assistants at the second meeting and a Halloween party was planned. Plans have also been made for National Girl Scout Week, beginning Oct. 28th. A display will be arranged in John Abbott's store window for each day. Girl Scout Sunday display will be in charge of Mrs. Paul Carlberg, Mrs. Neil Scott, Ruth Ann Scott and Louise Carlberg.

Monday, Homemaking—Mrs. Allen Frank, Mrs. Dorothy Stewart, Barbara Anderson and Louise Capron.

Tuesday, Citizenship—Mrs. Gerald Miller, Mrs. Grant, Dianne Stewart and Donna Strand.

Wednesday, Health and Safety—Mrs. Stuart Andersen, Mrs. Ray Gruber, Suzanne Onink and Martha Webster.

Thursday, International Friendship—Mrs. Travers Stohlborg and Mrs. Clifford Storms, Patricia Biehls and Norma Smith.

Friday, Arts and Crafts—Mrs. Howard Onink, Mrs. Eugene Anderson, Marilyn Miller, Linda Capron.

Saturday, Out of Doors—Mrs. Carl Allen, Mrs. Taylor, Emma Carlson, Violet Jones.

The Scouts will attend the church of their choice Sunday, as no special service has been planned.

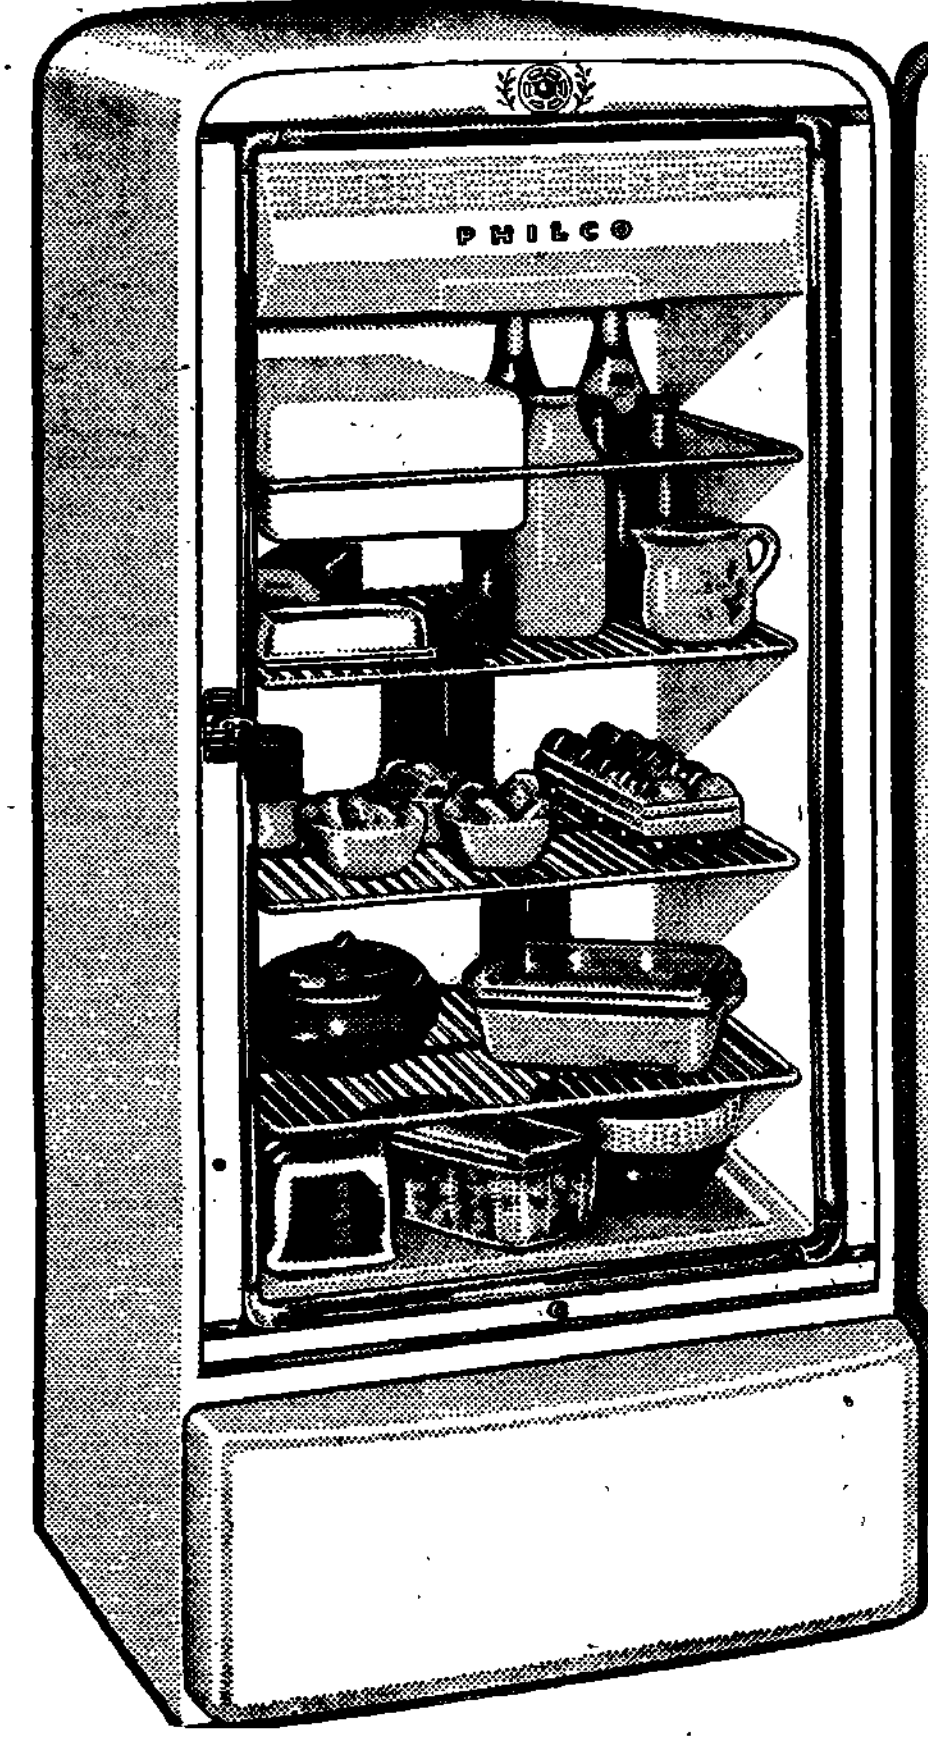

Rev. and Mrs. L. L. Adams are spending a few days at North Chili, N. Y., as guests of their son, Paul, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Wright left Monday for a vacation trip to Florida. They were accompanied by Donald Frank who will be employed at Auburndale, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Abbott of Jamestown, will conduct the Wrights' business place during their absence.

Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Grant entertained the group which spends vacations fishing in Canada, Sunday. Dinner was served with their fish as the special feature. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Andersen, Mr. and Mrs. William Lester, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Manross and

CHURCHILL'S VICTORY

Now that he has returned to power in Britain, Winston Churchill is expected to seek an early meeting with President Truman.

American officials anticipate also that he will press for a conference of western leaders with Soviet Premier Stalin sometime next year.

Many predict Churchill may make slow headway with this cherished project, for Mr. Truman has been cold to the idea - - - unless Stalin is willing to come to Washington.

Aside from a renewal of intense personal diplomacy at the highest level—a Churchill characteristic during the war years—little if any early changes in British foreign policy are expected to come from the Conservative victory.

One of the first issues for vital decision by the new British government is the Iranian oil crisis. However, most American officials do not see how any British government can do other than liquidate the Iranian holdings under Iran's nationalization law.

Some observers think the task may be easier for a Conservative than a Labor regime because the Conservatives can accuse their predecessors of having so mishandled the whole affair as to leave them no alternative.

The worst split between the U. S. and Britain during the Labor regime has been over Far Eastern policy: Britain recognized Communist China; the U. S. refused to do so.

There is speculation as to whether Churchill will try to change this situation—but diplomatic experts believe the development of Britain's policies will depend more on future events in the Far East than on any deliberate major policy changes by Churchill.

But aside from policy questions, one gets the impression that at least some administration leaders believe it may be easier to do business with a group of men less devoted to a doctrinaire concept of government than the labor leaders in most instances were.

Then too Churchill's personal popularity in this country is very great. A government led by him and men of his selection may command somewhat more confidence in the U. S. congress than one which was periodically accused by many legislators of spending American aid dollars to finance experiments in Socialism.

A major improvement at the Archie W. Thompson Post, V. F. W., in Corry, has just been completed by a Warren contractor. The annual Booster Club banquet for letter men of the Kane High school will be held November 8, in the Moose dining room, with Raymond A. We're in receipt of the latest issue of the Pleasant Township "Fire Department News," one of the breezy publications always welcome on our exchange desk, and as newsy as ever with comments on "Fire Season," "Birthday Party," "Arch Street Opened," "Building Progress," "Where's the Fire?" "On Helping the Department," "Auxiliary Meeting," "Extinguisher Education," and a map that reminds residents of the area "Your Fire Alarm Box is as Close As Your Telephone," listing the following: "School," "Fire House," "Township Garage," "Grange" and "Voting House." Only the soundest of sleepers missed hearing the noisy visit of large flocks of wild geese that, paid the borough a visit Sunday between midnight and five o'clock in the morning, motorists abroad at the time reporting that many of the migrating fowls stopped on the river below the Hickory street bridge, and others were noted on the creek. Employees of State Liquor Stores are up in arms over the failure of the Liquor Control Board to grant pay increases, claiming they have been given the run-around by some officials. According to all reports that old-time party at the Country Club Saturday evening was just about the most entertaining and enjoyable of any that has been held there in many years. Many excavations for new homes reminds that the North Warren section is one of the fastest growing communities in the district. Beginning with this evening, the first three nights of the week will be "tricks or treats," so every household should be prepared. We're happy to acknowledge a long and interesting appreciative letter from Fritz Kennett, Pelham, N. Y., in which he expresses sincere thanks on behalf of himself and son, Dick, for the fine treatment accorded them during their "Homecoming" visit in Warren, and especially for the return of his son's wallet which was inadvertently left in their hotel room when they left Warren.

Teachers of the borough have elected J. Leslie Ellis, of the high school, and Herbert Harris, of the grade, as delegates to attend the convention of the Pennsylvania State Educational Association in Pittsburgh.

Students participating in the assembly program at the high school this morning were Dick Field, La Verda Fouch, James Carson, June DeFrees, Betty Krebs, Jay Sellin and George Combs.

Judges of costumes for the annual Halloween dance of Company 1 and the American Legion at the Armory are Col. Fred E. Windsor, Captain Charles G. Pearson and Commander C. Wilford Smith.

R. E. Waid, county treasurer, announces that his office will be open all day Saturday for the convenience of applicants for hunting licenses.

Will Rogers says: Well, this was Navy Day. We celebrated it this year by lopping off appropriations. Wake up some morning with a war on our hands, then the mad rush will be on to build ships, give the big companies big bonuses to get 'em done quick, then we will have to go through that silk shirt buying period again.

Dr. El. Clyde Kander, president of Thiel, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Hi-Y Club.

War Bulletin: German troops were reported to have scored a break-through today into the Crimea peninsula, site of Russia's Black Sea naval base of Sevastopol, while other Nazi columns stormed at the gates of Rostov-on-Don in what appeared to be a climactic phase of the four-month battle of the Ukraine.

Sally Smith, president, conducted the first fall meeting of the Little Bach Society at the Philomel Club on Wednesday afternoon and Elizabeth Dunham presented the program.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Hoyt left for St. Petersburg, Fla., where they will spend the winter months.

Members of the Warren Borough Teachers Association enjoyed their first social event of the school year, a get-together-acquainted party, at Wildcat Park. The entertainment committee was headed by Miss Elizabeth Eby, with Miss Marjorie Harwick assisting. The social committee is composed of Miss Millie Kopp, Miss Edna Thompson, Miss Bertha Fraring and Francis Hetrick.

"SOCIALIZED MEDICINE" IN STATE GOVERNMENT

More than one person who so loudly attacks the public health proposals as "socialized medicine" might be surprised to know that the State of Pennsylvania maintains 10 general hospitals where free care is available at the rate of 439,080 hospital days per biennium, costing almost ten million dollars.

These are not mental hospitals or tuberculosis hospitals, but general hospitals for medical and surgical cases. Most of them are located in Schuylkill and Luzerne counties, and, under the terms of the laws governing their operation, free care is available.

All of this was brought out in an address in the Senate by Senator Elmer J. Holland, of Allegheny county, in a plea for greater economy in the state government. Why should taxpayers throughout the state provide free hospital care in these areas? Or, if free hospital care is to be furnished by the state, why shouldn't it be available elsewhere?

For three evenings, beginning tonight, goblins and spooks will be abroad, and this should serve as a reminder to all householders that they can help to discourage temptation by taking in porch furniture and other articles that may too easily be carted away. It would be well also to caution the youngsters against destructive pranks and annoying stunts that go beyond the category of "fun."

President Truman has signed the measure which gives postal workers annual increases of $300 to $400, long merited and long delayed. They will be able to face the test of the upcoming holiday rush with more enthusiasm, even if it means a bigger chunk for the Income Tax Collector.

If you are among those who have not already contributed don't delay making that donation to the Red Feather Community Chest Fund of $54,400, the campaign where everyone helps for the general good of all.

SHAPE Playing for Time To Build Defensive Force

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—SHAPE—General Eisenhower's Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe—has to be seen to be believed. The building itself is a one-story rambler and strictly temporary, with a long central corridor behind a plain reception center, and a dozen wings leading off at either side. Ike and his personal staff of brain-trusters occupy fourth wing left.

There are carpets on the floor, curtains and drapes at the windows of the top offices and principal conference rooms. There is a dining room for top officers and a cafeteria for "all ranks." There are, in fact, several cafeteria lines to accommodate the differences in pay of American and European military personnel.

It is a real international headquarters. Of the 255 staff officers, 110 are Americans, headed by General Alfred M. Gruenther, chief of staff. Forty-five are British, 40 French. Ten of the 12 North Atlantic Treaty countries are represented, Iceland and Portugal being the exceptions.

THE specific problem facing SHAPE is a two-fold mission. First is to develop forces to prevent war. Second, if this is not successful, to operate the forces they have to best advantage.

There is no speculation at SHAPE on what the Soviet will do. All effort is concentrated on what the Soviet could do. Six months ago it was freely stated that if the Soviet armies marched, they could reach the English Channel in 20 days. Today the estimate is 35 days. There has been that much improvement. The goal is to build a force that could stop a Soviet advance cold.

Total Soviet forces are estimated at four million men, with 20,000 planes. Sixty-five of Russia's 175 divisions are mechanized. Russia could mobilize 300 divisions in 30 days, from reserves, but some would be second class. In addition, satellite forces are estimated at 150,000 to 200,000 men, but not first-class units. Turkish, Greek and Yugoslav forces facing this satellite front are now considered superior.

It is sufficient to say that Allied Forces facing them on the western front are not so many nor so ready, now. But one year from now the Soviet capability would be deadened unless Russia masses new supplies and more troops.

TO build up European morale, the SHAPE staff—while emphasizing readiness to meet a Soviet surprise attack with present NATO forces—keeps pointing to the future. They emphasize what forces will be one, two and three years from now.

While Russia might overrun Europe now, it would be the first battle of what would be a long war. The Soviet would be subjected to a devastating strategic air attack. That would further weaken Russia's industrial potential, which even now is considered inferior to the West's.

In 1946, Stalin stated the Russian industrial goal as 60-million-ton steel capacity a year. They now have 40 million. The goal for oil capacity was 60 million tons. They now have 40 million tons. The goal was 500 million tons of coal. They now have 265 million tons.

In the meantime, western European military and economic strength have been greatly improved.

Military budget of The Netherlands has been increased 61 per cent over pre-war. The Belgian increase has been 69 per cent, the British 72 per cent, the French 85 per cent. And in the U. S. and Canada, the increase has been over 200 per cent.

These are some of the principal factors which keep the spirit of the SHAPE general staff high, though their problems are many.

Methodist Women To Observe "Quiet Day"

Mrs. Homer Bowersox conducted devotions and Mrs. L. C. Niederlander was in charge of a short business session for the regular meeting of WSCS members of First Methodist church. Mrs. Eugene Cease, who is secretary of missions and education, reported on the study books for the year.

S. Knox Harper gave an interesting talk on "The Bill of Human Rights of Citizens of the United Nations," illustrating his talk with slides and explaining briefly the meaning of each of these rights. A discussion period followed his talk.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. D. Shortt and Mrs. J. F. Hoffman, with their committee.

from a tea table appropriately decorated with United Nations flags.

Announcement was made of the Quiet Day of prayer and meditation in observance of the Week of Prayer and Self Denial which started Friday. This service will be held Tuesday, October 30, from 1:30 until 3:30 p. m. in Dunham Parlors. Mrs. Arthur Colley is in charge of the service. Those who attended last year will remember the beautiful service conducted by Mrs. Colley and it is hoped that many more will attend this year.

All Districts Having Part in Scouting Event

An unusually interesting program has been planned by the Warren County Girl Scout Council for its Court of Awards ceremony to be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the First Methodist church, Market street and Second avenue.

Program, public relations and field committees have been working out the details and Mrs. A. J. Weller, program coordinator, announces each district will be in charge of some part of the following program:

District I, the chorus; District II, intermediates in pantomime; District III, flag ceremony; District IV, Seniors in pantomime; District V, Brownies in pantomime. Seniors from District I will also serve as the ushers.

President Margaret Lewis, representing the council, will present awards to girls who have earned Curved Bar, First Class or other badges.

A very cordial invitation is extended by the council to all friends of Scouting to be present for this very special event.

SUCCESSFUL PARTY AT HOLY REDEEMER

About 140 persons attended the very successful fall card party held at Holy Redeemer Hall, with prize winners reported as follows:

Series of games—Prudence Cosmano and Eddie Critelli, high; Mrs. Ruth Ronald and David Wert, second. Five hundred — Adah Clark and Ike Dunkle, high; Mrs. Louis Flick and H. W. Apple, second. Auction bridge—Mrs. Rose Gerardi and Gerald Landberg, high; Margaret McNally and M. E. Logan, second. Contract bridge—Mrs. Fred Weigel and C. I. McCracken, high; Mrs. Allie Russell and Mrs. McCracken, second. Canasta — Mary Geromito and George Phillips, high; Mrs. Charles Armstrong and Bernard Hartweg, second. The special prize went to Mrs. Michael D'Angelo; the special award to William Wellacher, Clarendon.

Sponsored by the parish, the party arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Rose Scalise, Mrs. Kate Allinger, Mrs. Willard Briggs, Miss Esther Snyder and a very capable committee. All are most appreciative of the efforts of workers, merchants and patrons who made the affair such a successful one.

YOUNGVILLE PTA DRIVE SUCCESSFUL

Mrs. Lyle Johnson announces that due to the increased number of parents enrolling in the Youngville PTA, the committee is temporarily out of membership cards and must have new ones printed. The campaign, conducted entirely through the school students to save a house to house canvass, has brought in 226 memberships thus far.

VFW HALLOWEEN Party

The Veterans Club is holding a Halloween masquerade party for members and guests in the club rooms Wednesday evening commencing at nine o'clock. Prizes will be awarded and all are cordially invited to attend.

VALLEY UNIT

The Chandler's Valley Parent-Teachers Association will meet Tuesday in the school house.

MRS. DONALD W. COLBURN

The autumn wedding of Leona Leofsky, Jamestown, N. Y., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Leofsky, Garland, and Donald W. Colburn, son of Mrs. Arthur Webster, Jamestown, took place Saturday, October 27, at the St. John's Roman Catholic church in Tidioute.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 10 a. m. by the Rev. Father David Gernatt, rector of Sts. Peter and Paul church, of Jamestown. The altar was banked with palms and fall flowers, and the aisle pews were marked with white satin and yellow pom poms. Mrs. Karl Gertenberger, church organist, played traditional wedding music, and the church choir sang, "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother," "Mother At Your Feet Is Kneeling" and "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's gown was of white slipper satin appliqued with imported chantilly lace and styled with a scalloped neckline with nylon net yoke, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt ending in a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion net fell from a lace Juliet cap edged with orange blossoms, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and orchids with white satin streamers. The bride's only jewelry was a pearl necklace with matching earrings.

Josephine Leofsky, Buffalo, N. Y., was her cousin's maid of honor and wore a blue dress with satin bodice and full net skirt. Her headress matched the gown, and she carried a colonial bouquet of yellow pom poms. Bridesmaids were Emma Anderson, Jamestown, Marjorie Bower, Warren, and Martha Barton, Ashville. They had identical gowns of rose and carried bronze and white pom poms.

Groomsmen were Ralph Fargo, Jamestown, best man; with Theodore Leofsky, Buffalo, Edward Leofsky, Garland, and Grant Carlson, Lander, as ushers.

The bride's mother chose royal blue crepe with black accessories, and Mrs. Webster wore wine with matching accessories. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. V. C. Colburn, wore plum colored crepe. Each had a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums.

A reception for 400 guests followed at 2:30 p. m. at the Marconi Outing Club. Fall flowers and palms were used in artistic decoration and the buffet table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake.

Out of town guests were present from Erie, Corry, Farrell, Titusville, Buffalo, Westfield, Washington, D. C., and Cleveland, Ohio.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and after November 5 will be at home at 18 Allen street, Jamestown. For traveling, the bride wore a navy blue suit with beige accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Colburn is a graduate of Youngville High School, class of '46, and is employed by the Singer Sewing Machine Company in Jamestown. Mr. Colburn is a graduate of Jamestown High School, class of '45, and was in the U. S. Air Force 3½ years. He is an employee of the Marlin Rockwell Corp.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Mrs. Anna Marks, Mrs. Henry Leofsky and Mrs. Steo, of Garland; Mrs. DeWarren Barton, of Ashville; Mrs. Frederick Peterson, co-workers at the Singer Sewing Machine Co., and girls at the Agnes Home, Jamestown.

Astronomers at Palomar Observatory and Mount Wilson are examining photographic plates of sections of sky for new and distant celestial objects.

Additional Functions Given for Patty Printz

The Misses Carol Ecklund and Patricia Hall, Jamestown, were hostesses for a Sunday morning breakfast honoring Miss Patty Printz, whose marriage to Robert Lewis Moran will take place November 17. There were places for 12 and the honored guest was presented with a lovely gift of china from the group. Out of town guests were Miss Joan Lavery and Mrs. Alan Blair, Warren.

Also last week, Mrs. George Hendler and Mrs. Raymond Skinner, Lakewood, entertained at the latter's home in the form of a variety shower for Miss Printz. Out of town guests were Miss Meredith Walker and Mrs. Edward Walker, Warren.

On Thursday evening, Mrs. James Torrance, 109 East Wayne street, entertained for the bride-elect with a gadget shower. Bride was enjoyed and prizes awarded to Miss Joan Lavery and Miss Printz. Places were for eight at a table centered with fall flowers.

Glimpses of an Earlier Day Feature Fun and Fancy of Country Club Party

An authentic glimpse at the joys and goings on of the period known as the "Roaring Twenties" was given those who attended the Saturday night dinner-dance at the newwango Valley Country Club, approximately one hundred members enjoyed the evening's festivity.

Special credit for the success of a party goes to the committee headed by Mr. and Mrs. Allan Blair and working with them, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kopf, Jr., David and Mrs. Harry Logan, Jr. Ticker tape was draped from the chandelier and a stock quotation card from the "Twenties" decorated the side wall. Red checkered table cloths and bottles with candles were on the tables. Dinner was served at eight p. m., and dancing followed to the music of Jim Massaro and his orchestra from Jamestown.

Winners for the most authentic costumes were Mrs. Virginia Costley, in a stunning black creation, and Richard Smith. Mrs. Laura Beckley and John Carter won the Charleston contest. Photographs were taken throughout the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. David Beatty entertained informally before the dance at their home on Conewango avenue. Guests of honor at this affair were Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, who are leaving today for Florida. Costume prizes at the Beatty party were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Beckley as the best couple; Mrs. Eleanor Voigt for the best woman's costume and Folmer Terg for the best man's.

Westminster Fellowship Planning Fall Schedule

Eighteen members of the Junior High Westminster Fellowship of First Presbyterian church, along with ten members from the North Warren congregation, went by special bus to Oil City Sunday afternoon for the fall rally of such groups.

A very helpful and instructive program was carried out on the theme, "The Holy Land."

The Warren group has planned a Halloween program Thursday evening, 6:30 to 9:30, at the home of Ted Weld in Pleasant township. Everyone is asked to come masked, and costume prizes for the winners.

The regular meeting of the organization will be held at the church at 6:00 p. m. Sunday, and it is hoped there will be a good turnout for the business session.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The November session of the Presbyterian Women's Association will be a dinner-meeting Thursday, 6 p. m., at the church. Men of the church are invited to this meeting, at which the annual thanksgiving will be taken. The Rev. Frank H. Ferris, Mayville, N. Y., will speak on "Methuselah, Has Anything to Teach Us?" and Everett Borg will be the vocal soloist.

SEEKERS CLASS

The Seekers Class of First Evangelical United Brethren church will hold its regular meeting Tuesday evening in the Folkman parlors of the church and all members and friends are cordially invited. There will be the usual devotional period and business session, with a social hour and refreshments served by Mrs. Guy Hunter, Mrs. Jerrold Johnson and Mrs. Harold Farrell.

First Presbyterian Fair Is Successful

The Old Time Fair and Homecoming, which is the outstanding annual activity of the Presbyterian Women's Association, was counted a success by the many congregational groups that participated in it.

Mrs. C. L. Kinney, chairman, was pleased with the variety of products donated, which make for interesting shopping for the many fair patrons. Baked and canned goods, handmade linens and gifts, candies and house plants were sold. A special room was arranged for children. Luncheon was served at noon and tea throughout the afternoon.

The atmosphere of an old-fashioned fair was carried out in the basement of the church where the decor, literature and household articles of another day were displayed. Posters in the turn-of-the-century manner were on hand. Feature of the evening was a tin-type studio which furnished costumes and took pictures with a color camera. Men of the church served doughnuts and coffee.

The fair is regarded as a success in greatly aiding the Association's budget for home and foreign missions and also for providing an enjoyable means for co-operative work in the church.

Woman's Club Is Planning Event

The Entertainment Committee of the Woman's Club is again sponsoring an evening of cards, styles and dessert, to which all are invited, and November 7th will find the Woman's Club auditorium attractively set for activities beginning at 7:00 p. m.

Mrs. Mildred Bendix, of the Betty Lee Shop, will be the commentator for the showing of the latest in women's apparel.

For the outstanding players at bridge, canasta and five hundred, there will be prizes awarded. Tickets for this annual event are available through Mrs. Clayton Rudiger, chairman, by calling 2595, or at the Woman's Club and the Betty Lee Shop.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD

The loyalty of Needlework Guild members is well known and annually proved by the final record of gift-giving, but there are always a few who are late in sending their articles to their directors. This reminder is directed to these persons and to all who wish to become members, a request that all articles be in the hands of directors as soon as possible, so they may complete their records before the In-Gathering Day on Friday, November 2.

WILTSIE AID

Wiltzie Ladies Aid members will be entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Will Sturdevant.

Does Wife Good to Learn That 'Men Are All Alike'

THE women, thrown together by circumstances rather than by close friendship, were discussing men in general by discussing their husbands in particular.

Any husband would have been shocked and outraged to have heard his ever-loving wife telling comparative strangers about his typically masculine failings.

But the women seemed to enjoy the telling, as though it was really a great relief, just for a little while, to quit the whole business of pretending that a man is a great big, strong wonderful creature and admit out loud how much babying men require, how much attention and flattery, and so on.

Furthermore, each woman apparently got a lot of satisfaction out of discovering anew a fact hard for a woman to hold on to in day-by-day living. That is, that her husband's faults, those most irritating to cope with, weren't individual faults at all.

She was finding out that most other wives put up with about what she did, and that her husband was no worse than any other woman's. In fact, that most of his faults weren't faults at all.

DON'T LET IT GET YOU DOWN

SO if you ever suspect that your wife talks you over with other wives—don't be too upset.

The comparing of notes that women indulge in is really both a safety valve and an education.

They can't keep up the pretense all the time that you men are big and strong and wonderful. Not when they secretly feel they are just as smart and lots stronger and that you actually lean on them more than they lean on you.

And besides your wife will probably put up with your faults more cheerfully for realizing that they are, after all, fairly typical of men in general.

Women get as much comfort from saying: "men are all alike" as men get from their old standby "if that isn't just like a woman!"

Trinity Fellowship Is Rounding Into Shape

The first meeting of the new Trinity Youth Fellowship, held in the parish house, was featured by a report of the Smethport convention given by Ann Crossett.

One of the aims brought out in convention sessions, she stated, was to have the local group join other Episcopal groups within the Erie Diocese and to share in activities.

A square dance or a hayride around Thanksgiving time was planned, with Emily Robertson and Ann Blackman in charge.

After the business session, the program was turned over to David Lopez and movies were shown. Ann Blackman was in charge of refreshments, serving cider and doughnuts.

Ed Lowrey, Jim Eberly, Tony Creal, George Ecklund, and Rodney Bennett were the clean-up committee.

MOVED, NOT STOLEN

The owner of a car who telephoned police at 8 p. m. Saturday that the machine had been stolen from a Liberty street driveway, called back a few minutes later to say that a relative had moved the car.

SHEFFIELD

The October meeting of the Homebuilders class will take place at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Archie S. Brown. Assisting her as hostesses will be Mrs. John Samuelson and Mrs. Earl Carr.

Devotions will be conducted by Mrs. P. J. Finerty and an entertainment program will be in charge of Mrs. A. D. Bramer and Mrs. Sanford Secor.

New officers named at the September meeting of the class were Mrs. Gust Swanson, president; Mrs. Lewis Jones, vice president; Mrs. Wayne Chamberlain, treasurer, and Mrs. A. D. Bramer, secretary.

TO DISCUSS DRUM CORPS

All members of Chief Cornplanter Post American Legion interested in the formation of a drum and bugle corps are reminded of the organization meeting to be held at the club house this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Those in charge report favorable sentiment for such a project and it is hoped there will be a large attendance this evening.

Local Project Is Complimented In Language Journal

Giving the German Club of Warren High School as an example of a group creating "a better effect," "The Modern Language Journal," published by the National Foundation of Modern Language Teachers Association, has in its October issue an article on "The Community."

The writers state: "In every community people receive letters from abroad which they cannot read. They will often call upon the foreign language teacher for help. . . . The German students of Warren High School, following a suggestion from their teacher, even formed a translation bureau and announced publicly that they would translate letters received from Germany. It may be added that the public showed by its response that this offer of service was appreciated."

The translation bureau will be formed again this year. With another German class added to the schedule a fourth vice-president has been included in the class officers. The club has elected Sam Gerardi, president; David Berdine, first vice-president; Robert Harrington, second vice-president; David Woodruff, third vice-president; JoAnne Richards, fourth vice-president; Beverly Chapman, secretary; and John Shea, treasurer. Edward Zukak is the German teacher at the school. The club has already had a welcome picnic for the new members and has planned other events for the school year.

PRODUCTION CREDIT GROUP WILL MEET

Norman R. Rough, secretary, has made announcement of the eighteenth annual stockholders' meeting of the Meadville Production Credit Association which is to be held in Meadville in Kingsley Hall, Stone Methodist church, South Main Street, on Monday evening, at 8:00 p. m.

Members and guests from Erie, Crawford, Mercer, Warren, Venango, and Forest Counties, which the association serves, will attend this meeting.

At this meeting two directors will be elected, one from Erie County and one from Crawford County.

The members and guests will hear reports concerning the progress of the Association during the past year.

After the business meeting there will be entertainment and refreshments will be served.

Visitation Is Made Veterans at State By Cootie Groups

The regular monthly visitation of the Hay Rake Pup Tent No. 40, Military Order of the Cooties and the Cootettes to the veterans at Warren State Hospital, was made on Saturday at two p. m.

An excellent program of entertainment was made possible by donation of time and talent by the following: Lee Dachow, master of ceremonies, and Tito Vaccaro, tap dancer, who appeared at the Sons of Italy over the weekend, and Maurice Radford, singer.

Accompanying them was a band composed of Lloyd VanTassel, LeRoy and Kenneth Johnson, who appeared under the auspices of the Bradford Local 84, American Federation of Musicians. In addition to accompanying the floor show, the musicians provided many request numbers.

Refreshments in keeping with Halloween were served and each veteran was presented with cigarettes, tobacco, candy, gum and magazines.

The program was closed with group singing of "God Bless America" and group response of the Lord's Prayer.

Hey Rake Pup Tent No. 40 wishes to extend its most sincere appreciation to the staff of Warren State Hospital, and to all others who aided in making the visitation possible.

Two More Arrested For Topsy Driving

City police racked up numbers 28 and 29 early Saturday morning when two more drunken drivers were arrested. They were Merle Albough, of Clarendon, arrested about two a. m., and Wesley Deming, 125 Conewango avenue, formerly of Sparta, arrested about an hour later.

When arraigned before Justice of the Peace Tracy M. Greenlund, Saturday morning, Albough entered a plea of innocent and waived a hearing and was released for court under bail of $1000.

Deming waived a hearing and entered a plea of guilty. He was remanded to county jail in default of $500 cash bail or $1,000 property bail.

Both men will appear before Judge Allison D. Wade at the next term of quarter sessions court.

STATE STORE GROUP MEETS IN BRADFORD

Discussion of proceedings at the recent statewide convention in Harrisburg was the principal item of business at the meeting of the McKean, Warren, Cameron, Potter counties chapter of the Independent Association of PLCB Employees, held at the American Legion Home in Bradford yesterday.

The chapter voted approval of a resolution passed at the convention calling for testing of the constitutionality of Pennsylvania's "no strike" law as it affects state employees, and authorized payment of the chapter's share of the costs.

The next meeting of the local chapter will be held in Warren on January 20, 1952.

NO TRICK TO TREATING ON HALLOWEEN, BY GUM!

It's doorbell ringing time for hungry Halloween ghosts and goblins next Wednesday, so better have plenty of 1951 goblin fare handy. The spooks and spirits who'll be out in force won't be looking for traditional goblin dishes like root of hemlock and clips of yew. Today's ghosts and goblins are a two-fisted, gum-chewing, candy-eating species who'll reward you by fitting off to their happy haunting grounds if you make with the giving gum and candy. There will be plenty of them around Halloween night, so it may call for a trip to the gum and candy counter—but be of good spirit, neighbor, it's worth it!

Men in Service

Ronald Massa spent a weekend pass with his family in Fourth avenue. "Bud," as he is known to his friends, has arrived at Providence, R. I., after six weeks in European waters.

Pfc. Edwin M. Brainard, son of Mrs. Mable Brainard, of Russell, and husband of Mrs. Laura Barton Brainard, of Corry, returned Thursday to Camp Rucker, Ala., after spending an eleven-day furlough with his wife and mother, also other relatives and friends.

INJURED BY CAR

James Fitzgerald, aged 6 1/2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Fitzgerald, 611 West Fifth avenue, suffered only a scratched knee at 12:05 p. m. Friday, when he was struck by a car driven by Norman Gross, 221 Main avenue, in front of the Municipal building. It was reported the boy ran across the street in front of the Gross car.

JUNK FIRE

The emergency truck and engine No. 2 from the east side were called to a railroad siding at the foot of South street about 2:53 a. m. today when a fire developed in a car of junk belonging to the Segel junk yard. Cause of the blaze is unknown. Firemen used two booster tanks to extinguish the fire and returned to their stations at 4:10 a. m. There was no estimate of the loss.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Malec, Starbrick, have returned from Long Island, where they were called by the death and funeral of the former's sister-in-law, Mrs. William Malec, formerly of Warren and daughter-in-law of the late George Malec. Others attending the rites were Mrs. Edward Malec and Mrs. Jack Rapp, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McQuismon, Corry; Chester Malec, Oil City.

RELIEF DECLINE

Statistics released today by the Department of Public Assistance in Harrisburg show a marked decline in public assistance throughout the Commonwealth, with the decline general in nature instead of confined to any particular region. Totals indicate a drop of slightly over 20 per cent in relief rolls since the first of the year. Warren county currently lists 312 persons on the rolls, of which all but three are recipients of old-age, dependent children, disabled, or blind pension payments.

COLLISION OCCURS

Police were called to Pennsylvania avenue, east, and Heitzel street late Friday afternoon when cars operated by Grant E. Anderson, 119 Grant street, and Bryan E. Burns, 209 Willoughby street, collided. No one was injured. According to the police report, Anderson was driving west on Pennsylvania avenue, and Burns north on Oak street. Damage was estimated at $125 to Anderson's car, and about $35 to Burns.

ELKS' CLUB DANCE

Many came in costume for the Halloween dance arranged by the entertainment committee at the Elks' club, Saturday evening, and the guests found the club colorfully decorated in fall colors and all the appurtenances that go with the Halloween season.

Bill Barr's orchestra provided music for dancing, round and square, with Bill doing the calling. The committee served refreshments.

ACCIDENT REPORT

The reporting of 7,094 industrial accidents in Pennsylvania during September represents the lowest number for any month since July, 1950, according to figures just released by the Department of Labor and Industry. Iron and steel industries reported the largest number of injuries with construction and contracting leading in non-manufacturing industries. Cuts, lacerations, puncture wounds and bruises, with finger injuries most frequent, were cited as the principal accidents. Next were sprains, strains and dislocations, primarily back and spine injuries.

Anniversary Party Of The Bargman Sorensens

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Bargman Sorensen, 108 Park avenue, was the scene of a happy gathering Sunday, when relatives and friends gathered to help them celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary. Guests numbering about 60 included several from Jamestown, N. Y., and Erie.

Fall flowers, many of them gifts, filled the home and an attractive refreshment table featured a pink and silver color thought carried out with an anniversary cake, silver tapers and matching napkins.

In addition to a great many remembrances of the pleasant occasion, the happy couple received greetings from as far away as

Excessive Profits On Liquor Scored

Philadelphia, Oct. 29—(AP)—The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board today is accused of "making an unwarranted and unconscionable profit out of the national emergency" and causing "a revival of large-scale bootlegging with all its attendant train of social evils".

The charges are in a letter W. W. Keen Butcher, president of the Pennsylvania Alcoholic Beverage Study, Inc., said he sent yesterday to Senator Frederick T. Gelder, chairman of the PLCB.

Butcher predicted that if the board "persists in a course of unrestrained profiteering x x x some day an aroused public opinion will insist upon wiping out the entire state store system in Pennsylvania."

Butcher said liquor can be made for 20 cents a fifth. He reported the average price of a fifth of whiskey in Pennsylvania state stores is $5.47, compared with $4.89 in other monopoly states. He said only Utah and Washington charge higher rates than Pennsylvania.

BILLY MEYER WILL STAY WITH PIRATES

Deland, Fla., Oct. 27—(AP)—Billy Meyer has been reappointed manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates for the 1952 season.

General manager Branch Rickey said Meyer was given a one-year contract identical with the one which expired at the end of the 1951 season. He didn't divulge salary but Meyer reportedly has been receiving about $40,000 a year for the past three seasons.

Rickey gave the genial Meyer his contract at a luncheon for rookie Buc players who have been attending a training camp here since the end of the baseball season.

of the Warren County Bar Association, today. "Serving on the jury is a responsibility of citizenship which should not be shirked. Many do not realize that the jury system is one of the basic parts of American citizenship, and the only way it will work is for every citizen to realize his responsibility."

At the office of Sheriff L. E. Linder, it was said this morning that notices will go out today to Warren countians selected for jury service at Quarter Sessions Court, Nov. 12. Notices for Grand Jury service have already gone out, the Grand Jury to convene Nov. 5. Notice for service on Common Pleas Court jury, to convene Nov. 19, will go out from the sheriff's office about Nov. 5.

peninsula in western Korea. The Reds would retain them under the Allied plan.

Nuckols said one complaint the Communists made against the Allied cease-fire proposal was that it called for a 2 1/2-mile demilitarized zone. This would be too narrow, the Communists said. Nuckols said the U. N. offered to double the width. He said this would come under the Allied offer to make "minor modifications" in its proposed cease-fire line.

If and when the issue of a buffer zone is settled, it doesn't mean the fighting will be stopped.

Three other tough issues must be settled first. They are: 1. Supervision of the truce. 2. Prisoner exchange. 3. Recommendation to the involved governments, including the Communist demand that all foreign troops be withdrawn from Korea.

than three minutes before the bus dove into sight from the opposite direction. The loaded bus, inbound for the Oakland bus depot after a night run from Salt Lake City, smashed the concrete block, blew a tire and went out of control. It ripped out a section of the stout retaining rail and fell into the darkness below.

The impact as the bus landed was so violent that its top was smashed down to seat level. And every seat was beaten to the floor, as if struck by a giant hammer. It took an hour and 49 minutes for rescuers to extricate the 28 passengers—and the driver.

Bus driver Vane E. Elshire of Sacramento, Calif., was one of the dead.

multiple bruises and abrasions. Hospital attaches said today none of the trio is in serious condition. The accident occurred, according to State Police from Ridgway, about 9:20 a. m. Sunday at a point on Route 255 about seven miles south of St. Marys, Miss Robillard, driving, went off the road onto the berm and, in attempting to regain the right side of the highway, lost control of the vehicle and rolled over twice. The machine was entirely demolished, the police official said.

PRISONER OF WAR—Sgt. Everett Knupp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Knupp, Ridge, Md., previously listed as missing in action in Korea and now reported a prisoner of war somewhere in China. His parents are former Warren residents and the young soldier is a grandson of Mrs. Charles M. Knupp, Starbrick, and of Mrs. Glenn Marlett, 348 Pennsylvania avenue, west. In a letter received this morning from his mother, it was learned he has been contacted by the Red Cross and is believed to be on the mainland of China.

AROUND THE WORLD
By ACME NEWSPICTURES

AMERICANS MUST WAIT—Scores of ocean-going tuna boats, idled by the heavy imports of frozen fish from Japan, are tied up at San Diego, Calif. Many of them have waited for weeks to unload their cargo. Beached by foreign fish, these boats, on a rotation schedule, must wait up to 90 days before returning to sea.

ONE-MAN FIRE DEPARTMENT—A Blitz Buggy, the latest in fire-fighting equipment, is shown being demonstrated in Detroit. It carries 200 gallons of water, has a nozzle pressure up to 600 pounds and needs only one person to operate it successfully.

THEIR HEADS ARE BENDING LOW—A mother giraffe is giving a lesson in graceful grazing to her baby at a zoo in Whipsnade, England. These animals are built for high-altitude dining, such as snagging leaves or fruit from trees, but they can manage to get their nourishment from earth level, too.

SAFETY FIRST—A safe and sane Halloween was the keynote of a pre-season donut party held in New York for children between eight and fourteen. Singer Fran Warren, shown here with three of the small guests, was hostess of the affair and helped to demonstrate the fun that can be had in the home on October 31 without the wild pranks that result in injury and sometimes disaster.

AUTUMN IN PARIS

part of the process of moving it toward the Eiffel Tower, center. The statue is being taken from the spot where it has been for years to make room for the new quarters of the United Nations at the Palais de Chaillot. The Tower, the city's famed landmark, can be seen from all parts of Paris. Autos and river craft wait side by side as the banks of the Seine are converted into parking lots to accommodate the cars of visitors to the 38th International Auto Show and the annual Nautical Exhibition, top, above. The phone booths, below, are part of the touring ECA "Train of Europe" which contains exhibits of progress made in nations of the free world. When a slug is inserted, a recorded message by a famed official, whose picture is shown, is heard by the listener.

STUNT BACKFIRES—When the asbestos suit worn by fireman Ernest Edwards failed to prevent leg burns from gasoline flames during a fire prevention demonstration in Seattle, Wash., he had to be given first aid. Slicker-clad lassies were on hand to do their bit with extinguishers.

FOR KOREANS' CHRISTMAS—Col. Ben Limb, Korea's representative in the United Nations, and two Korean youngsters, are shown with some of the 500 boxes of warm clothing which were sent to Korean children for Christmas by the Save the Children Federation in New York. The Federation's Manhattan workrooms have recently resembled the home of Santa Claus.

LIVING PERCH—Five macaws searched the entire Miami, Fla., Zoo before finding the ideal place to perch. Willow Pat Zenner doesn't mind wearing the birds, but they seem to have already sighted another landing spot.

FLYING BATTALION—Helicopters flew an entire battalion of U.S. Marines into battle on the Eastern front in Korea in the largest operation of its kind in military history. The 160 flights were completed in six hours and 15 minutes. The photo shows a leatherneck testing a rope for use to lower an advance party of scouts. (Photo by Acme Staff Photographer Jim Healy.)

GOOD BIDDING CAN WIN MANY HANDS
By OSWALD JACOBY

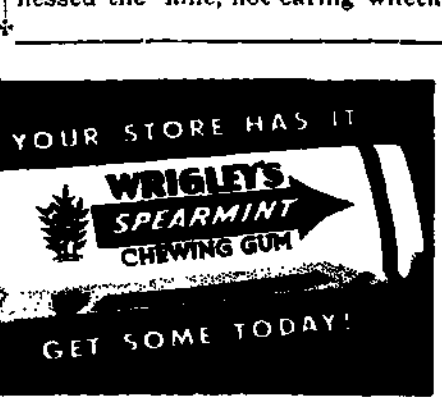

Written for NEA Service
The bidding of today's hand was very instructive. South won the first trick with the king of hearts and set to work on the clubs, knowing that he needed four club tricks to make his slam.
If the contract had been a grand slam, South would have finessed.

the jack of clubs at once. But South could afford to lose one club trick. Hence he took precautions against losing two tricks.
Declarer began by leading a club to dummy's ace at trick two. Then he led a low club from dummy towards his king-nine. When East played the eight, South finessed the nine, not caring whether

Conewango Club Has Criminologist From Britain for Address at Dinner Meeting

Members of the Conewango Club will have as a guest speaker on Thursday of this week Richard Harrison, one of England's leading authorities on criminal detection and crime prevention.

Through his friendships with numerous English police officials, Mr. Harrison has been given access to files in various prisons, police headquarters, courts and at Scotland Yard. With such authoritative material he has written many books on criminal trials and police identification work. His latest book "Whitehall 1212" is called the first definite book on the history and methods of this world-famous law enforcement agency.

Mr. Harrison was born in Hove, Sussex in 1901; the son of Dr. Walter Harrison, a dental surgeon of note of that period, who had graduated from Harvard. Too young to take active part in World War I he became a medical student, until illness prevented him from finishing his school work. He turned to farming, for which he had little inclination, and then to writing. Beginning as a reporter on a small British weekly he reached Fleet Street, the Mecca of all British journalists.

Here are a few specimens from the torrent of books pouring off the publishers' presses:

George Washington, vols. 3 and 4, by Freeman — The series continues with Washington's marriage, his military life through the winter of Valley Forge, his private life as landowner, neighbor and citizen. The interesting details are derived from primary information sources.

A Man Called Peter, by Catherine Marshall—Mrs. Marshall describes the Scottish boyhood, early hardships, the decision to preach that were part of her husband's life, as well as their courtship and marriage.

He is equipped with a wide knowledge of people and affairs, especially in relation to crime, criminals and police. A passion for accuracy has led him to seek his backgrounds first hand and first hand knowledge led him to write on police and criminal methods in fact as well as in fiction.

Moses, by Shalom Asch—The story begins with Moses as a young man, seeking to know the identity of his parents. Is culminated with his becoming the leader of the Hebrew people. This is a vivid picture of a colorful episode in history.

The subject of his talk Thursday will be "Scotland Yard". He will describe the work and history of this famous criminal detection agency and give illustrative cases of the "Yard" in action. He will also tell of its relations with other police forces and describe its huge Criminal Record Office and its fingerprint system.

Warren Dragons Lose to Dunkirk, 7-0, During Last Few Minutes of Play; Locals Lead in Yards Gained

YARD-EARNED TOUCHDOWN COUNTED OUT

A 67-yard touchdown pass from Pete Schwert to Eddie Ellman with less than six minutes playing time in the game, gave the Dunkirk, V. Y. Maroon Marauders a 7-0 victory over the Warren High Dragons on their home gridiron Friday night.

Virtually the contest belonged to the Warren eleven, which outplayed the New Yorkers most of the game and had one second period touchdown called back. The Legionnaires out-ranked the Marauders, 3-7, in the first down column and outstrutted them by 150 yards.

The Dunkirk High backfield outweighed the Dragon backs by a 10-pound average, while two forward walls were evenly matched.

It was Coach Leidig's fifth straight loss this season and was only the second triumph in six starts for Coach Karl Hoepfner, now in his 34th year of coaching.

Veteran mentor Leidig started a new lineup in the game, after using the same eleven for most of the year, placing Leroy Salerno in the signal calling spot in place of George Scalse. Sophomore Jim Indico at left half shifted Dean Vesling from that position to right half for Ed Frontera. Toby Shea, junior fullback, completed the quartet.

Vesling was the first Dragon to get his hands on the pigskin when the Marauders punted, and looked well on his way for a TD. Evading the opposition's defense, he raced from the 20 to the mid-field mark where the last defenseman just caught his arm enough to make him fumble. He grabbed the leather again but was stopped after eight more yards.

Both teams then battled back and forth until near the end of the stanza when Richard Ellman, 197 pound Dunkirk fullback, booted out of bounds on the Warren 15.

From this point, the Blue and White forced its way 65 yards to the Marauders' 20 yard stripe, Shea moving the sticks twice on 34 and four yard gains and a third time on Vesling's 10 yard excursion around left end.

Two ground plays picked up two yards, Indico hurried to Dick Hegerty incomplete, and on the fourth down the threat ended when a Dragon receiver dropped Salerno's aerial in the end zone.

Warren continued to outstrut Dunkirk in the second quarter with 71 yards gained from scrimmage, the Dragon line holding the opposition to 11 yards. Shea, Indico and Vesling did most of the ball handling and added five first downs.

A 51-yard march from the Warren 23 to the Dunkirk 26 highlighted action in the period. Vesling paced the drive with 23 yards gained in five plays. Indico adding 18 and Shea 10. From the 21 yard line, the former tipped loose around right end to score, but officials called the play back, ruling the Dragons had five men in the backfield.

On the second down, Vesling fumbled. Shea picked it up, then fumbled himself with Dave Berdine recovering the next play, Dick Ellman snagged a Dragon pass, but Warren regained possession at the gun when Berdine hopped on Marvin Schwert's fumble.

The two eleven kept each other deep in their own territory with continuous punts in the third period. Neither picked up much yardage, the longest gain a 13-yard aerial from the Marauders' 200-pound left halfback, Schwert, to Charles Thies.

A similar combination started Dunkirk off in the final stanza when it paid off with 18 yards and a first time, but Shea nailed the second pass attempted, to put a stop to things.

After three plays the Legionnaires punted and Dunkirk returned the kick 13 yards to its own 20. With less than six minutes remaining, the New Yorkers turned to the sky ways for a 10 yard gain to the 33.

Then came the key play when Schwert pitched a 27 yard pass to E. Ellman, who made the catch on the Warren 40 and out-distanced the Dragon safety man to reach payoff territory. Joe Biscaro converted for the PAT.

The Blue and White eleven came back after the kickoff, starting from its 23 and plowed to the Dunkirk 33 before Harry Hamer-nik intercepted Salerno's pass and brought it back 23 yards to the 43.

The Marauders kept possession of the pigskin with six ground plays before the final gun, Schwert

Sugar Grove-Farmington Is a St. Joseph's Victim, 51 to 6, in Night Game at Oil City

An outclassed and inexperienced Sugar Grove-Farmington eleven was slapped down, 51-6, at Oil City Friday night, when it met St. Joe's Hilltoppers.

The Irish squad witnessed its easiest victory in history and ran up the highest number of points any Irish team ever has recorded on the gridiron.

Earl Knapp, Grover right half-back, scored the county team's only touchdown on a 64-yard excursion through right tackle in the third period.

Fullback Bill Fink was the big gun in the contest, running for four, 37, 12, and 28 yards to score as many times, kicked an extra point, and threw two TD passes.

While at the game, the Warren fans had the opportunity to see more than 1,500 high school musicians participate in Penn State's 1951 Band Day, which was originated a year ago.

County TV Behaves Well as Marciano Defeats Joe Louis

Warren county's rather limited television audience was quite enthused, Friday night, upon being able to witness a goodly portion of the bout between Joe Louis and Rocky Marciano in which Marciano ended Louis' comeback attempts with a technical knock-out in 23 of the eighth, at Madison Square Garden.

Referee Ruby Goldstein never bothered to count when a stunning left hook and right to the jaw dropped the once great Brown Bomber on the ring apron in helpless condition. Louis had just got up from an eight-count knock-down when the end came.

With a near-capacity crowd rocking and rolling with the impact of the sensational upset, Louis was out for several seconds.

Marciano's home town crowd from New England swarmed to engage in wild-eyed exuberance at the success of their favorite son, a 6½ to 5 underdog.

On the second down, Vesling fumbled. Shea picked it up, then fumbled himself with Dave Berdine recovering the next play, Dick Ellman snagged a Dragon pass, but Warren regained possession at the gun when Berdine hopped on Marvin Schwert's fumble.

The two eleven kept each other deep in their own territory with continuous punts in the third period. Neither picked up much yardage, the longest gain a 13-yard aerial from the Marauders' 200-pound left halfback, Schwert, to Charles Thies.

JULIANO AND PAPPALARDO LEAD DOUBLES

Erie, St. Marys, Upper Darby, and Philadelphia keggers fired shots at the Penn Bowling Center over the weekend in the Second Annual State Knights of Columbus tenpin tournament.

The previous weekend, Warren and Kane bowlers participated in the opening of the tournament, which will bring tenpin squads from K. of C. Councils all over Pennsylvania here for the next several weekends.

The East Side retained their position as team leader with 2721 pins, St. Marys No. 2 and Barr Ford of Philadelphia, moving into second and third places with 2707 and 2671. Chimenti's Barbers, second last week, were moved down the ladder to fourth spot with their 2656 aggregation.

M. Pappalardo and A. Juliano still hold the doubles led with 1205, Don Caldwell, Erie, took over the singles lead with a 626 total, and Tom Masterson, with his 1758, is still high in the All-events section.

Youngsville Scores Twice On Aerials But Loses a Tough Game to Cambridge Springs

After trailing 14-6 at the end of three periods, the Youngsville Eagles tallied on a last quarter pass play to cut Cambridge Springs' victory margin to one point, 14-13.

Both Eagle TD's were accounted for on eight yard aerials from quarterback Bud McChesney to end Dave Pierson, the first coming in the second stanza. Bailey plunged for the only extra point.

Bob Watson, Blue Devil's fullback, busted the center of the line for seven yards for the first Spa tally and Don Bertram ran 55 yards around end to touch paydirt the second time. Passes from Bertram to Lewis and Ken Cooper to Jack Rust for PAT's made the difference in the decision.

STEELERS WIN OUT IN FINAL PERIOD
Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A three-touchdown surge in the final minutes gave the Pittsburgh Steelers their first National Football League victory of the 1951 campaign yesterday, a 28-14 win over the Chicago Cardinals.

Out-gained on the ground and in the air, the Steelers made the best of a few opportunities. Joe Geri, Lynn Chandross and Chuck Ort-mann all hurried touchdown passes good for 46, 49 and 33 yards respectively. Jack Butler ran 52 yards with an intercepted Cardinal pass for a final score late in the fourth period.

The Steelers came back from a 14-7 deficit in the fourth period after a 145-pound scabback, Billy Cross, ran through around and under the Steeler defense for the two Cardinal touchdowns in the third.

STOCK AVAILABLE IN CLINTON AND POTTER COUNTY GAS WELLS

The Pamaco Gas and Oil Company, Inc., of Renovo, Lock Haven and Germania, Pa., is continuing the stock issue for its Potter and Clinton County operations. Two wells are now being drilled on Company property at North Bend near Renovo, Pa., within a few hundred feet of the now famous Gughiocho producing well. The Germania well will be drilling at once. Mr. Clyde Williams, the contractor who has brought in three producing wells, has this contract. This assures the company of a quick and efficient operation. Drilling on the Thompson estate on the Summerson Mountain acreage and the Driftwood Area will be in progress in the near future. The Company has also acquired 2800 acres in the long proven gas and oil area of Ohio. Expect to drill on this acreage about November. Stock may be purchased or information concerning gas operations can be secured by contacting the Pamaco Gas and Oil Company at any of the above locations or by phone or letter to Mr. John R. Brown, Germania, Pa.

Hal Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

New York—(AP)—Americans are a strange nation of people united by a Democratic constitution—and a red cement called ketchup.

It is doubtful which has done more to hold them together. Long debates have been held on what is the great American dish. Apple pie? Pumpkin pie? Fried chicken? Turkey with cranberry sauce? The hamburger? The hot dog?

All these have their passionate defenders. But to any one who regularly travels these United States, there can be but one answer. The great American dish isn't a dish at all. It's a bottle, a bottle containing the flavor in widest favor—ketchup.

Ketchup, also known as catsup and catsup, is no more native to these shores than folks named Smith, Jones, Johnson or O'Houlihan. It is an immigrant. It originated in Malay. It was made usually of mushrooms, unripe walnuts and ripe tomatoes, and was used to flavor soups, meat and fish.

Only after migrating to America, however, did ketchup come into its own. Here its ingredients are tomato puree, vinegar, spices and sugar.

And the scarlet, goosy semi-fluid graduated from a flavoring substance into an all-purpose food. You true ketchup fan today will eat it through a straw. He will douse it on everything from chicken-a-la-king to ice cream and only an iron tradition keeps some enthusiasts from using it to cool their coffee.

In times of prosperity the poor man uses it to anoint everything on his full plate. In times of hard ketchup is the poor man's surest fodder. He can go up to a cafeteria counter, ask for a cup of hot water, take the steaming cup to the nearest table, pump some ketchup in it—and he has a bowl of tomato soup for nothing.

"During the last depression," a Florida cafeteria owner told me, "that ketchup trick almost caused me to go broke. I think it started with a dandyman visitor, but he sure did spread the custom fast through the south."

What explains the overwhelming popularity of ketchup? Many restaurant owners have a cynical answer.

"Because it's free," they say. "Anything that's free is bound to be popular."

But I don't think that is the real explanation. I think the reason is partly psychological—part of mankind's old quest for certainty in an uncertain world.

A man goes into the average small restaurant and orders meat loaf and hash-browned potatoes. When his loaded plate is brought, he looks uneasily at it. Doubt surges above his hunger. What is in that mysterious mess before him? Where did it come from? What is in it? He takes a tentative taste, and his doubt immediately deepens. Has the cook played a Halloween trick on him?

He sighs, reaches for the ketchup bottle, and covers the plate from edge to edge. He no longer can see what lies beneath the new red swamp he has created. And no matter what heady taste of glue the menu items had before, it is drowned in the all-enveloping flavor of ketchup, a flavor as changeless as the U. S. Bill of Rights.

No, Americans don't turn to ketchup merely because it is free. They reach for it because it is the constant friend of people who must eat out in strange places, a sentinel as faithful to them as a lighthouse is to ships lost at sea. Some may not actually like it; but they know for sure what it is.

The biggest problem is how to thump it out of the bottle with-

LUDLOW

Ludlow, October 27—Lutheran Brotherhood Day was observed at Moriah Church on Sunday morning when the Rev. Hans Pearson used as his sermon subject, "The Christian Profession," and Mr. Kenneth Stoll of Port Allegany, prominent Lutheran layman, spoke on the subject, "True Brotherhood" and related it to the Pro Deo Et Patria awards which were given them. Ronald Gilfert and Gordon Mortenson, two of three boys from the New York Conference so honored, received these distinguished awards which are given in recognition to Scouts who have given at least one hundred and fifty hours of service to the church. These boys have attended Sunday School, Luther League, and Church, and each wrote an essay concerning Martin Luther. Both have served as acolytes, and both boys helped keep the church shrubbery in good condition during the past summer. The Rev. Hans Pearson officiated at the impressive ceremony in which both boys received citations as announced by their leader, Lester McArthur, and received the award pins which were placed on their Scout blouses by their fathers, Homer Gilfert and Oscar Mortenson. Music for the morning included a vocal solo by Mrs. Gustav Olson and an anthem by the choir. Announcement was made that Reformation Day will be observed next Sunday.

The Covenant Mission church held regular services Sunday morning, with the Rev. Wallace Carlson giving the message. Announcement was made that Ladies Aid will be held on Thursday evening with everyone invited. Prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. on Wednesday.

Those in attendance from Ludlow at the lecture and film given by Dr. Crane of North Warren at the Bethany church on Sheffield on Thursday evening, included Mr. and Mrs. John G. Johnson, Mr. Adolph Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Nelson, Misses Edith Larson and Tillie Olson, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nelson.

Mrs. Emil Nelson, choir director of Moriah church, entertained the music committee at her home on Tuesday evening when new music was selected for the coming year and for the Christmas program. Plans also went forward for the entertainment of the Jeffery Chorus which will appear in November at Moriah church, a special event to which the community looks forward. Ludlow members of the Kane Mens' Chorus include William Hanson, Leland Engman, Carl Benson, Robert Johnson, James Christenson, and Virgil Nelson.

Several Ludlow people attended the Michigan State and Penn State football game at State College,

Saturday. Four boys, Jim and Tom Swanson, David Swanson, and Gail Olson of Ludlow attend Penn State and Allene Johnson of Ludlow attends Michigan State so this game created much interest. Those who attended the game included Mr. and Mrs. Emil Nelson who also stayed for the weekend for Homecoming, and for Saturday only, E. W. Johnson, Ernest Swanson, Lawrence Olson, Meiron Jones, Philip weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Erickson. Everybody reads the Times-Mirror.
